Community Relations: Non-Discrimination Statement	08/15/92	1610
	AMENDED DATE: 06/30/99 01/27/07	DELETION DATE:

The Catholic schools and learning centers of the Diocese are required to comply with all applicable federal and state anti-discrimination laws. They hire employees and admit students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, age, religion or disability to all the rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accorded or made available to all individuals at the school/center.

The educational institutions of our Diocese do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, age, religion, or disabilities in the administration of their educational policies, admission policies, personnel policies, scholarship and loan programs, or athletic and other school/center administered programs.

Catholic schools and learning centers do, however, reserve the right to give preference to Catholic students in their admission policies and to Catholic teachers in their hiring decisions.

The school/center also reserves the right to refuse an application – student or employee – if it concludes it does not have the necessary resources to implement the requested accommodation.

The schools/centers of the diocese have varied resources to assist individuals with disabilities. Unfortunately, it is impossible for all students or employees with a documented disability to be accommodated by the school/center. On a case-by-case basis, each educational institution will assess the physical, emotional and educational needs of the student or employee who requests an accommodation.

In this regard, it is important to keep in mind the following statement of the U.S.C.C. (United States Catholic Conference): Under the tax code of the United States, tax exempt groups are not allowed to intervene in political campaigns for the purpose of influencing the campaigns on behalf of a particular candidate. This does not mean that church related groups may not be involved at all in voter-education activities. Rather, it means if they are tax exempt, they may not be involved in a partisan way, such that particular candidates are favored or approved. Essentially, the IRS allows tax exempt groups to participate in voter-education activities as long as: 1) they address a multiplicity of issues, and 2) they do so in an unbiased manner.”
